Egypt Stone Play— Sarcophagus Journey Stone; and Super-Charger Quartz Mini-Matrix

Aaron and Sue Singleton founders of The Way to Balance, LLC in Amesbury, MA are creators of various healing techniques, training programs and numerous vibrational healing tools. Having been in business since 1993 they are committed to supporting empowerment and healing of others. I've grown to appreciate the tools Aaron and Sue have created for more than two years. They are simple to use, gentle in the creation of an energetic environment, effective for amplifying the intended focus, as well as awakening and expansive for personal and client healing and growth. Two products I would like to share are part of their Stone Play toolbox.

What are Stone Play Tools for Healing and Intention?

The Stone Play Tools are innovations by Aaron and Sue that are designed to harness and apply non-force energy technology using specially-developed Stone Play Layout Mats and a variety of natural crystals. By placing crystals in various geometry designs on the Stone Play Layout mats (or on the body, as with Egypt Stone Play), the Stone Play Tools help to manifest healing, intention, and general goodwill and greatly amplify any work you may do with intention and Universal Laws.

How the Stone Play" Tools Work:

Stone Play Tools create simple yet powerful vortices using a combination of crystal formations, Rings of Oden formations, and more. For example, various configurations have been pre-designed to create the energy and resonance for opening, balancing and healing, as well as connecting with Oneness/Centering with the Divine, plus recreating the energy frequencies of sacred spaces such as Stonehenge, Machu Picchu, The Great Pyramid, and more!

Two of the tools I will share with you this issue are the Egypt Stone Play – Sarcophagus, Open Tomb of Resurrection (also know as The Journey Stone), and Super Charged Quartz Mini-Matrix. Both use activated crystals to support specific intensions in one's healing journey.

Egypt Stone Play - Sarcophagus, Open Tomb of Resurrection (The Journey Stone)

The Journey Stone uses a Sodalite crystal specifically activated with frequencies from Ancient Egypt by Aaron and Sue. These frequencies hold the energies of the three major chambers of The Great Pyramid-The Pit, Queen's Chamber and King's Chamber. A triangulation pattern of the 3 pyramids at Giza (Khufu-The Great Pyramid, Khafre and Menkaure) was then added to stimulate DNA healing on a cosmic and physical level. In addition, this crystal is also embedded with the energy frequency of the famous Sarcophagus. All of this supports the willingness to travel, without leaving your body; enhancing the effects of meditating in this transformational space; create a safe journey within self to know more intra-dimensional realities; and embrace this opportunity to transition from initiate to adept. You may intend a specific journey or dimension, or "whatever is for my highest good at this time."

The Journey Stone is helpful in revealing that which is not seen or what someone is unaware of. It can be used in any number of ways beyond what is listed in the information which comes with the crystal. In my opinion this crystal will effortlessly support a heart felt, soul guided willingness to become a balanced and grounded human being. I have used this crystal to create and maintain a focus for myself and clients. When used with clear intent, willingness, openness and focus it increases the ease of a person to hold a clear and centered willingness for themselves to move towards balance and wellbeing. With the honoring and welcoming of the experienced insight great change can be embraced.

At different times I have had clients create a focus for themselves without the Journey Stone in hand and then with it. The experience was expressed as "different", "more intense and expansive", "more vivid" with the stone in hand. Now one could argue that it is "mind over matter" or "the placebo effect." That is up to each person to decide. My faith and willingness to become aware of and embrace Universal Truth is what I use to determine the sincerity of any person. The only times it was stated there was "no difference" or "nothing happened" was when the focus was to may steps ahead; the focus was to avoid something, which required honoring; or the level of tension, fear, and/or anxiety of what was surfacing to shift was greater than the willingness to welcome change. After the obstacles were connected with and shifted the original focus was engaged again and the results were appreciatively remarkable by the person.

Super-Charged Quartz Mini-Matrix

Description: These specialized Super-Charged Quartz Crystals have been cleared, energized and programmed with The EOL Net-Neutral Ion Generator and other EOL techniques by Sue and Aaron. This greatly increases the energy amplification of these crystals, beyond the typical quartz amplification traits. Regular store-bought quartz will not have the powerful effect of these programmed crystals. When placed on the matrix as instructed, the crystals create a 360° energy vortex, with a radius of 35 feet (70-foot diameter). This vortex amplifies the energy of whatever is placed in the center of the circle, such as essential oils, other crystals, medications, liniments, vitamins, herbs, etc.

I have been using this item with Joan, myself, family, friends and clients for more than two months. This matrix is easy to use and truly affective. Not only is one able to use an expansive array of items listed above to support clearing, healing and balancing, but more than one matrix can be used at a time with complementary items. For example, if someone is clearing physical trauma from the body and there is an awareness of any emotional and energetic imbalances influencing the trauma, a matrix can be used to create a vortex to resolve the physical trauma, another to clear the emotion influences and one to support the clearing and balancing of the energetic field. After the release or clearing is experienced one or more matrix can be used to help re-harmonize the physical, energetic and emotional state. This matrix is as expansive as a persons willingness to explore. We have used this matrix with many individuals and groups with wonderful results and compliments of gratitude for the experience. If you are a practitioner of any technique, this matrix offers an opportunity to increase your offering of support and what a person will have access to in your presence and is a wonderfully supportive tool for all willing to heal and grow.

Size: All-inclusive kit contains an 8-inch vinyl mini-matrix mat, layout and usage instructions and 6 Super-Charged Programmed Clear Quartz Crystals.

Joan and I have been using a variety of their tools for a few years and greatly appreciate all they offer and support. Both of these products create an environment of support and help facilitate change whether you are a practitioner or someone interested in supporting yourself through the journey of life. When used with clear intention these tools are a joy to play with.
